GAP FUNDING PROGRAM

What Is Gap Funding?

The Gap Funding Program is a reserve fund established by the West Georgia Technical College Foundation to provide students in need with short-term financial assistance to help pay for the cost of attendance or to assist with educational expenses and more.

Bridging The Gap

Since the Gap Funding Program began in 2018, more than 700 West Georgia Technical College students have received financial assistance they need, helping them remain enrolled when they may have otherwise been dropped from their class due to outstanding fees.

Our program is designed to "bridge the gap" in a student's ability to fully fund his or her education at West Georgia Technical College, and it ensures that students who need financial assistance have the resources to continue their education.

Award amounts vary based on each student's individual need, and students who receive funding arrange to repay the amount they were awarded before the end of the semester.

Program Success

- Students repay 94-99% of the funds they receive from the program.
- The amount of funding available has grown from $15,000 in spring 2018 to $90,000 in the summer 2020.
- In 2019, the West Georgia Technical College Foundation guaranteed 100 students' tuition with $30,000, with students owing between $31 and $601.
- The Foundation currently guarantees between $75,000 and $90,000 every semester.
- The amounts of outstanding fees owed by students typically ranges from $6 to $379.
- In spring 2020, the West Georgia Technical College Foundation guaranteed $90,000 worth of tuition and fees for 110 students and recovered 96% of the funds by fall 2020.

As of spring 2020, West Georgia Technical College spent $10,395.25 toward helping more than 700 students afford their classes that semester.

The Gap Funding Program has also fostered a culture of financial responsibility, and many who donate help create sustainability in the program for future students who may need funding.
